

Less controls, less complexity, less things for people to think about = easier to use. Might this method of searching get most people the results they need most of the time?

Problems

Finding Contacts

proximity etc.